THE ROOT & HERB DOCTOR,
FROM PHILADELPHIA,

WHO HAS HAD 30 YEARS CONSTANT practice, can be consulted at the Altoona House, Mr. John Wood's, viz.:—On the 7th of June, the 8th of July, and the 7th of August—he will then vacate for 3 months. Notice will be given in this paper when he commences his Winter's Term again.

He treats all diseases that flesh is heir to. He invites all females who may be suffering with diseases peculiar to their sex, to call and examine his new mode of treatment, as thousands have been restored to health who have been abandoned by others. He is in possession of perfect instruments for sounding the lungs and chest and is therefore able to determine the exact condition of the vital organs—consequently can treat such complaints with greater safety and certainty than it is possible for those who guess at the disease and experiment for its cure. He believes that for every malady, there is found in our soil a sure and never-failing remedy.

Patients can receive treatment for $5 per month, except in cases of Cancers and Tumors, they vary from $10 to $100. Examination free. DR. W. LEVINGSTON.

THE RISING OF THE PEOPLE.

Poem delivered before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Harvard University.

BY ELDRIDGE JEFFERSON CUTLER.

The drum's wild roar awakes the land; the fife is calling shrill;
Ten thousand starry banners blaze on town, and bay, and hill;
Our crowded streets are throbbing with the soldiers' measured tramp;
Among our bladed cornfields gleam the white tents of the camp.
The thunders of the rising war hush Labor's drowsy hum,
And heavy to the ground the first dark drops of battle come.
The souls of men flame up anew; the narrow heart expands;
And woman brings patient faith to nerve her eager hands.
Thank God! we are not buried yet, though long in trance we lay,
Thank God! the fathers need not blush to own their sons to-day.

Oh! sad and slow the weeks went by; each held his anxious breath,
Like one who waits, in helpless fear, some sorrow great as death.
Oh! scarcely was there faith in God, nor any trust in man,
While fast along the Southern sky the blighting shadow ran,
It veiled the stars, one after one; it hushed the patriot's song,
And stole from men the sacred sense that parteth right from wrong.
Then a red flash, the lighting across the darkness broke,
And with a voice that shook the land the guns of Sumpter spoke;
Wake, sons of heroes, wake! The age of heroes dawns again;
Truth takes in hand her ancient sword, and calls her loyal men.
Lo! brightly o'er the breaking day shines Freedom's holy star,
Peace cannot cure the sickly time. All hail, the healer, War!

That call was heard by Plymouth Rock; 'twas heard in Boston Bay;
Then up the piny streams of Maine sped on its ringing way.
New Hampshire's rocks, Vermont's green hills, it kindled into flame;
Rhode Island felt her mighty soul bursting her little frame:
The Empire city started up, her golden fetters rent,
And, meteor-like, across the North the fiery message sent;
Over the breezy prairie land, by bluff and lake it ran,
Till Kansas bent his arm, and laughed to find himself a man:
Then on by cabin and by camp, by stony wastes and sands,
It rang exultant down the sea where the Golden City stands.

And whereso'er the summons came, there rose an angry din,
As when upon a rocky coast a stormy tide comes in,
Straightway the fathers gathered voice, straightway the sons arose,
With flushing cheek, as when the East with day's red current glows.
Hurrah! the long despair is past; our fading hopes renew:
The fog is lifting from the land, and lo! the ancient blue!
We learn the secret of the deeds the sires have handed down,
To fire the youthful soldier's zeal, and tend his green renown.
Who lives for country, through his arm feels all her forces flow;
'Tis easy to be brave for truth, as for the rose to blow.

Oh! Law, fair form of Liberty, God's light is on thy brow,
Oh! Liberty, thou soul of Law, God's very self art thou.
One the clear river's sparkling flood that clothes the bank with green;
And one the line of stubborn rock that holds the water in—
Friends whom we cannot think apart, seeming each other's foe:
Twin flowers upon a single stock with equal grace that grow.
Oh! fair ideas, we write your names across our banner's fold;
For you, the sluggard's brain is fire; for you, the coward bold.
Oh! daughter of the bleeding past! Oh! hope the prophets saw!
God give us Law in Liberty, and Liberty in Law!

Full many a heart is aching with mingled joy and pain,
For those who go so proudly forth and may not come again:
And many a heart is aching for those it leaves behind,
As a thousand tender histories throng in upon the mind.
The old men bless the young men and praise their bearing high;
The women in the doorways stand to wave them bravely by.
One threw her arms around her boy, and said, "Good bye, my son;
God help thee do the valiant deeds thy father would have done."
One held up to a bearded man a little child to kiss,
And said, "I shall not be alone, for thy dead love and this."
And one, a rosebud in her hand, leant at a soldier's side;
"Thy country weds thee first," she said; "be I thy second bride."

Oh! mothers, when, around your hearths ye count your cherished ones,
And miss from the enchanted ring the flower of all your sons;
Oh! wives, when o,er the cradled child ye bend at evening's fall,
And voices which the heart can hear across the distant call;
Oh! maids, when in the sleepless nights ye ope the little case,
And look till ye can look no more upon the proud young face,
Not only pray the Lord of Life, who measures mortal breath,
To bring the absent back unscathed out of the fire of death;
Oh! pray with that divine content which God's best favor draws,
That, whomsoever lives or dies, he saves his holy cause!

So out of shop and farm house, from shore and inland glen,
Thick as the bees in clover time are swarming armed men;
Along the dusty roads in haste the eager columns come,
With flash of sword and musket's gleam, the bugle and the drum.
Ho! comrades, see the starry flag, broad-waving at our head;
Ho! comrades, mark the waving light on the dear emblems spread.
Our fathers' blood have hallowed it; 'tis part of their renown;
And palsied be the caitiff hand would pluck its glories down!
Hurrah! hurrah! it is our home where'er thy colors fly;
We win with thee the victory, or in thy shadow die!

Oh! women, drive the rattling loom, and gather in the hay;
For all the youth, worth, love and truth are marshaled for the fray.
Southward the hosts are hurrying, with banners wide unfurled,
From where the stately Hudson floats the wealth of half the world;
From where, amid the clustered isles, Lake Huron's waters gleam;
From where the Mississippi pours an undiluted stream;
From where Kentucky's fields of corn bend in the Southern air;
From broad Ohio's luscious vines; from Jersey's orchards fair;
From where between his fertile slopes, Nebraska's rivers run;
From Pennsylvania's Iron hills; from woody Oregon;
And Massachusetts led the van, as in the days of yore,
And gave her reddest blood to cleanse the stones of Baltimore!

Oh! mothers, sisters, daughters, spare the tears ye fain would shed;
Who seem to die in such a cause, ye cannot call them dead.
They live upon the lips of men, in picture bust and song,
And nature folds them in her heart, and keeps them safe from wrong.
Oh! length of days is not a boon the brave man prayeth for;
There are a thousand evils worse than death or any war—
Oppression with his iron strength fed on the souls of men,
And License, with the hungry brood that haunt his ghastly den.
But like bright stars that fill the eye, adoring hearts ye draw;
Oh! sacred grace of Liberty; oh! majesty of Law!

Hurrah! the drums are beating; the fife is calling shrill;
Ten thousand starry banners flame on town, and bay and hill;
The thunders of the rising war drawn Labor's peaceful hum;
Thank God that we have lived to see the saffron morning come—
The morning of the battle call, to every soldier dear!
Oh, joy! the cry is "forward!" Oh, joy! the foe is near!
For all the crafty men of peace have failed to purge the land;
Hurrah! the ranks of battle close; God takes his cause in hand!

Select Miscellany.

SHAVING A MILLIONAIRE.

Let any man become immensely wealthy by his own exertions, and straightway you shall hear numerous anecdotes illustrating the means by which he attained his riches, the effect they have upon him, his disposition of them, or his sayings peculiarities and eccentricities.

Astor, Girard and Billy Gray have furnished illustrations for many a clever sketcher. We heard a few clever anecdotes the other day of Billy Gibbons, a New Jersey Millionaire, one of which we give our readers.

It seems that Billy, while in a country village in which he owned some property, stepped into a barber shop to get shaved. The shop was full of customers, and the old gentleman quietly waited for his turn.

A customer who was under the barber's hands when the old man came in, asked the knight of the razor, in an under tone, if he knew who that was, and on receiving a negative reply, he informed him in a whisper that it was "Old Billy Gibbons, the richest man in the State."

"Good," said the barber, "I'll charge him for his shave."

Accordingly, after the old man had that operation performed, he was somewhat surprised upon asking the price to be told "Seventy-five cents."

"It's my price," said he of the lather brush, independently, "this is the only barber's shop in the place, them that comes into it must pay what I ask."

To the old man this was rather a knock-down argument, for he drew three-quarters of a dollar from his pocket and paid them over to the barber and left the shop.

A short time after he was in close conversation with the landlord of the tavern hard by, and the topic of conversation—barber-shops.

"Why is it," said he, that there's only one barber-shop in town? there seems to be nearly enough work for two."

"Well there used to be two, said the landlord, till last winter, when this new man came up from the city and opened a new shop, and as everything in it was fresh and new, folks sort of deserted Bill Harrington's shop which has been going nigh fourteen years."

"But didn't this Bill do good work? didn't he shave well and—cheap?"

"Well as for that," said the landlord "Bill did his work well enough and cheap enough, but his shop wasn't on Main street like the new one, and didn't have so many handsome pictures and curtains, and folks got in the way of thinking the new shop was more scientific, but," said the landlord, stroking a chin sown with a beard resembling screen wire, "I never want a lighter touch or keener razor than Bill Harrington's."

"City fashions—eh!" growled the old man. "So the new man's city fashions shut up the other's barber shop."

"Well, not exactly," said the landlord, "though things never seemed so well with Bill after the new shop opened; first one of his little children died of fever, then his wife was sick a long time, and Bill had a big bill to pay at the doctor's; then as a last misfortune his shop burned down, one night, tools, brushes, furniture and all, and no insurance,"

"Well," said the old man pettishly, "why dont he start again?"

"Start again!" said the communicative landlord, "why bless my soul, he hasn't got anything to start with."

"H—m—m! Where does this man live?" asked the old man.

He was directed and ere long was in conversation with the unfortunate tonsor, who corroborated the landlord's story.

"Why don't you take a new shop?" said the old man, "there's a new one in the block right opposite the other barber's shop."

"What?" said the other, "you must be crazy. Why that belongs to old Billy Gibbons; he'd never let one of those stores for a barber shop, they are a mighty sight too good; besides that I have not got twenty dollars in the world to fit up with."

"You don't know old Billy Gibbons as well as I do," said the other.

"Perhaps not," said the barber.

"Now listen to me. If you can have that shop all fitted up rent free, what will you work in it for by the month? what is the least you can live on?"

"This proposition somewhat startled the unfortunate hair-dresser, who finally found words to stammer out that perhaps twelve or fifteen dollars a month would be about enough."

"Pshaw!" said the old man, "that won't do—now listen to me—I'll give you that store, rent free, and engage your service six months, all on these conditions: You are to shave and cut hair for everybody that applies to you, and take no pay; just charge it all to me, and for all your services I'll pay you twenty dollars per month, in advance—pay to commence now," he continued, placing two ten-dollar bills before the astonished barber, who; it is almost unnecessary to state, accepted the proposition, and was still more surprised to learn that it was Billy Gibbons himself who had hired him.

In a few days the inhabitants of that village were astonished by the appearance of a splendid new barber-shop, far surpassing the other in elegance of appointments, and in which, with new mugs, soaps, razors and perfumes, stood a barber and assistant ready to do duty on the heads and beards of the people. Over the door was inscribed, "William Harrington, Shaving and Hair-Dressing Saloon."

The people were not long in ascertaining the privileges of Bill's establishment, neither were they slow in availing themselves of them, and it is not to be wondered that it was crowded and the other deserted. The other held out some weeks, suspecting this free shaving—(for Bill kept his secret well)—was but a dodge to entice customers away, who would soon be charged as usual; but at the end of six weeks he found Billy working away as usual, charging not a cent for his labor, and having money to spend in the bargain, he came to the conclusion that he must have drawn a prize in the lottery or stumbled upon a gold-mine, and was keeping a barber-shop for fun, so he closed his shop in despair and left the place.

Meanwhile Bill Harrington kept on, busy as a bee, and one morning his employer stepped in, and without saying a word, sat down and was shaved; on rising from the chair, he asked to see the score for the six months past The barber exhibited it, and, after a careful calculation, the old man said:

"Plenty of work, eh?"

"Lots of 'em," said the barber, "never did such a business in my life."

"Well," replied money-bags, "you have kept the account well. I see I have paid you one hundred and twenty dollars for your services—all right, and there were three hundred and thirty dollars charged for shaving all that applied; now, this furniture cost one hundred dollars, and it is yours. You are also to have this shop, rent free, six months longer, and after to-day you are to charge the regular price, for your pay from me stops to-day."

This, of course, the barber gladly assented to.

"But," said the old man on leaving, "take care you never cheat a man by charging him ten times the usual price for a shave, for it may be another old Billy Gibbons.

☞ Money and time have both their value. He who makes bad use of the one will never make good use of the other.

Providential Escape from Starvation.

The Memphis Argus gives the following account of a providential escape from starvation, by a gentleman residing in Lauderdale county, Tenn., near Hale's Point:

Last week he was out hunting in a large bottom in his neighborhood, when he observed a wild goose fly out of a cypress stump, which was some twenty feet high. His knowledge of the habits of these geese led him to believe that the goose had a nest in the stump. On the outside of the stump were a number of vines, by which he pulled himself up to peep in and get possession of the eggs. After he had succeeded in gaining the top of the stump, he discovered a large number of eggs some six or eight feet down inside. He supposed the nest was on a firm foundation, and he accordingly let himself down inside, but, when he struck the substance on which the nest was built, he discovered that it had no foundation, and that he was sinking to the bottom of the tree.

The inside of the tree was rotten and would not bear his weight. Now he was in a dilemma; five miles from any habitation, inside of a stump twenty feet high, with no prospect of any assistance, and with nothing to subsist on but the eggs; he screamed and yelled until he was nearly exhausted—no one coming within hearing distance. On the third day after his accidental incarceration, two gentlemen were out hunting and came within hearing distance. They were very much frightened at hearing a man groaning inside of the stump, and for some time they could not reconcile themselves to what it meant; but having learned that the gentleman had been missing from home for several days, they were soon satisfied that it was no "ghost" inside the tree. They procured axes and soon liberated the prisoner. He swears that he will never attempt to rob a goose nest situated as that one was again.

"SERMONS IN STONES."—The following are the mottoes on two highly finished blocks of marble, ordered by the Legislatures of the respective States, and now in Washington awaiting their places in the Washington Monument:

"LOUISIANA,
Ever faithful to the Constitution and the Union."

"TENNESSEE,
The 'Federal Union—It must be Preserved.'"

Could our Federal army desire any stronger motives to do duty than those suggested by those who thus untrammelled expressed their sentiments before the arm of tyranny sealed their lips?

THE ENCHANTED FLOWERS.—The following pleasant trick has been lately performed by the celebrated magician, Herrmann, in a fashionable private circle:—Hermann, having brought along a great quantity of artificial flowers, invited the guests in the room each to take one. Then, walking around from one person to the other, he took each flower only for a moment between two fingers of his right hand, and, gently breathing upon it, returned the same to the owner, when suddenly all the flowers were changed into natural ones, scenting the air with the most delicious fragrance.

☞ Was not that rather sharp in old Dr. Emmons, when a certain well-known pantheistic physician, intending to make way for a thrust at his theology, abruptly asked, "How old are you?" "Sixty, sir: and how old are you?" was the quick reply. "As old as the creation, sir," responded the other, quite promptly. "Then you are of the same age with Adam and Eve?" "Certainly, sir; I was in the garden when they were." "Indeed!" returned the Doctor, "I have always heard that there was a third person who got into the garden with them, but I never knew before that it was you." The discussion was closed.

THE GOLDEN RULE.—It is said of an Indian, that whenever he got into a bad place in a swamp, where the ground was too soft for safety, he put up a stake to mark the place. Thus he not only avoided the danger himself, but he kept others from falling into the same snare. Might not every Christian learn a lesson from this rude son of the forest, not only to guard against his own false steps, but as he prays, "lead us not into temptation," to be careful to remove temptation out of his brother's path?

☞ What greater thing is there for two human souls, than to feel that they are joined for life—to strengthen each other in all labor, to rest on each other in all sorrow, to minister to each other in all pain, and to be one with each other in silent, unspeakable memories at the moment of the last parting?

——Learn in childhood, if you can that happiness is not outside, but inside. A good heart and a clear concience bring happiness, which no riches and no circumstances alone ever do.

RATHER SLOW.—The Oswego Times tells the following story at the expense of a railroad conductor: "On the two o'clock slow freight and passenger train from Syracuse, the other day, were a lady and her son, a youth of good dimensions, the latter traveling on a 'half ticket.'—After innumerable stoppages and delays, in unloading freight, and the like by which the patience of passengers is usually exhausted long before they reach the city, the conductor made his appearance for tickets. Glancing at the pasteboard received from the boy, he looked first at him, then at his mother, and then at the ticket, and remarked that he was 'a large boy to be riding at half fare.' 'I know,' said the lady, 'I know he is, sir; but then he's grown a good deal since we started.'"

"One of the soldiers in the Vermont regiment to which private Scott, the soldier sentenced to be shot for sleeping upon his post, belonged, relates an incident which shows in a strong light the kind-hearted character of our President. Scott was to be shot early in the morning. On the afternoon before, it was decided to pardon him, but the place of his confinement was six or seven miles from Washington. President Lincoln telegraphed to the officer in charge of the execution, but getting no reply, and fearing that his message might have miscarried, he went himself after dark to the encampment, to make sure that all was right."

THERE ARE NO TRIFLES.—There are no such thing as trifles in the biography of man. Drops make up the sea. Acorns cover the earth with oaks and the ocean with navies. Sands make up the bar in the harbor's mouth on which vessels are wrecked; and little things in youth accumulate into character in age, and destiny in eternity. All the links in that chain which is in all, and around all, we can see and admire, or at least admit, but the staple to which all is fastened, and which is the conductor of all, is the throne of Deity.

☞ Sir Walter Scott wrote.—The race of mankind would perish did we cease to help each other. From the time that the mother binds the child's head, till the moment that some kind assistant wipes the dew of death from the brow of the dying, we cannot exist without mutual help. All, therefore, that need aid have a right to ask of their fellow mortals, and no one, who has in his power to grant, can refuse without incurring gilt.

☞ An intelligent lady whose little boy was beginning to swear, anxious to express to her child the horror of profanity, hit upon a novel plan of washing out his mouth with soap suds whenever he swore. It was an effectual cure. The boy understood his mother's sense of the corruption of an oath, which with the taste of the suds, produced the desired result. The practice if universally adopted, would raise the price of soap.

A GREAT ATTAINMENT.—Ruskin says: "Speaking the truth is like writing fair, and comes only by practice; it is less a matter of will than of habit; and I doubt if any occasion can be trivial which permits the practice and formation of such a habit. To speak the truth with constancy and precision, is nearly as difficult, and perhaps as meritorious, as to speak it under intimidation or penalty."

A Day of Thanksgiving and Praise.

Pennsylvania, ss.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of said Commonwealth.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, Every good gift is from above and comes down to us from the Almighty, to whom it is meet, right and the bounden duty of every people to render thanks for His mercies; Therefore I, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do recommend to the people of this Commonwealth that they set apart

Thursday, the 28th day of November next,

as a day of solemn Thanksgiving to God, for having prepared our corn and watered our furrows, and blessed the labors of the husbandman, and crowned the year with His goodness, in the increase of the ground and the gathering in of the fruits thereof, so that our barns are filled with plenty: And for having looked favorably on this Commonwealth and strengthened the bars of her gates and blessed the children within her, and made men to be of one mind, and preserved peace in her borders; Beseeching Him also on behalf of these United States, that our beloved country may have deliverance from these great and apparent dangers wherewith she is compassed, and that He will mercifully still the outrage of perverse, violent, unruly and rebellious people, and make them clean hearts, and renew a right spirit within them; and give them grace that they may see the error of their ways and bring forth fruits meet for repentance, and hereafter, in all godliness and honesty, obediently walk in His holy commandments, and in submission to the just and manifest authority of the republic, so that we, leading a quiet and peaceable life, may continually offer unto Him our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving.

GIVEN under my hand and the great seal of the State at Harrisburg, this sixteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-sixth.

The Naval Expedition Sailed.

The despatches from Fortress Monroe state that the great naval expedition, which has been making preparations for some time back, sailed from Hampton Roads on Tuesday morning at daylight. The flag-ship Wabash took the lead and fired a signal gun, when the entire fleet, consisting of over fifty vessels, were put in motion, and formed in line a few miles down the Roads. The fleet is said to have started out in beautiful style, the steamer Cahawba bringing up the rear. Now that this fleet has gone forth on its important and mysterious mission, considerable speculation will no doubt be indulged in as to its destination. It is said that Gen. Sherman, who has command of the expedition, will not confine his attention to one port or one State, but will strike at several points, and with such rapidity that the rebels will be at a loss to know for the benefit of what rebel Governor to deplete the Manassas army. One reason that the secret of the destination of the expedition is so well kept is, that much is left to the discretion of the commander, who is at liberty to be governed by circumstances in his operations.

The objects expected to be attained, should this raid upon the Southern coast be successful, are fourfold, and may be stated thus:—First. To carry the war into the cotton States, which are chiefly responsible for the rebellion, and, by doing so, to produce the disorganization and dispersion of the immense rebel army now collected in Virginia. Second. To secure winter quarters for our troops, and harbors of refuge for our naval and mercantile marine. Third. To open one or more Southern ports to commerce, and thus satisfy all demands and obviate all difficulties about the supply of cotton and the efficiency of the blockade. Fourth. To form a nucleus in those rebel States near which the long suppressed loyalty and good sense of the people may find safe and appropriate expression, and to encourage and stimulate this reactionary feeling, of which we have seen such a remarkable and encouraging manifestation in North Carolina.

A THOUSAND UNION MEN HUNG—The Mt. Sterling, Kentucky, Whig, of last week gives an account of speeches made in that place on Monday of last week—County Court week: The Whig says:—General Dick Williams, late of Texas, gave his fellow-country men a true and fair narrative of the effects of secession as witnessed by him in a travel of some seventeen hundred miles, over land. He told of some of the most harrowing scenes of outrages and demon-like atrocities committed by the fiend Secessionism, as witnessed by himself and family; neighbors of his, for no other crime than that they were loyal to the government of their fathers; he averred, as a fact, from his own knowledge, that the number thus hung could not have been less than a thousand in the States of Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee!

REALIZING THEIR CONDITION.—The Richmond Enquirer acknowledges that the rebels can not defend their seacost and that it is useless to attempt it. It says:—

"Our true policy of defence lies in a vigorous push for the banks of the Ohio. We can afford to suffer raids on the Southern seaboard, if we can succeed in reaching with a large force, the enemy's own thresholds and homesteads in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Then if he lands and ravages our coasts, we will invade, pillage and burn his villages in retaliation. Until we shall have reconquered the Southern Territory that has been surrendered to him, and planted ourselves right upon the border of his own country, we shall not be safe from his raids upon our Southern coasts. It would require an army of a million of men to line our coasts in such a manner as to protect them from their naval excursions On the contrary, 50,000 or 75,000 men penetrating the banks of the Ohio at a few different points will effectually secure our coast from aggression, by giving him alarm and employment at home, and by putting it in our power to retaliate upon him with a vengeance."

That is the programme we should like to see carried out. Let them abandon their sea coast and approach the borders of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and they will meet with a handsome reception. Their attacks upon Pennsylvania and Ohio's towns and villages will not create more alarm and employment at home for the Federal army, than attacks upon their seacoast will create in the Confederate army.

HARD TIMES FOR THE NEWSPAPERS.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, writing under date of the 1st, has the following newspaper gossip:

The Tribune, like many others of its cotemporaries, has been compelled to succumb to the "pressure of the times," and accordingly it makes its appearance to-day in materially curtailed dimensions. One of its rivals, the World, I see, chronicles the fact with a chuckle—albeit, if it be true that the Tribune is in a bad way the World may well fear that it will come to an end. I suppose there can be no doubt of the prevailing impression among journalists that no paper in New York will more than clear expenses this year, and not a few of them, I happen to know, will be well content if they do that.

The religious papers are not exempt from the losses incurred by the war. One of them reputed the most prosperous and independent, would probably be in a bad way but for the crumbs that are thrown it from Washington, "for sweet charity's sake."

It may be added here that the Sun was sold at auction to-day for the sum of $35,000, to satisfy a mortgage. A few months ago the establishment changed hands for $100,000.

An Important Movement Frustrated.

It is said, on good authority, that Gen. McClellan had resolved upon a movement upon Leesburg, in which he has been most unfortunately defeated by the injudicious advance of Gen. Stone. Gen. McClellan's plan was this: He ordered Gen. McCall to reconnoitre from Drainville towards Leesburg, Gen. Stone from Edwards' Ferry towards the same point; and if the reports brought back proved favorable, Gen. McCall was to move upon the Virginia side, while Gen. Stone advanced from the river. McCall performed his duty, and returned to quarters; Stone, in making his reconnoisance, saw thirty rebels, an insignificant number, which he proposed to capture, and gave orders to that effect; but in the movement to do so, he discovered that the number had been slightly increased. To meet this increase, he strenghtened his reconnoitering party—still, with no intention of inviting or even expecting a general engagement. But the pursuit of these led to the discovery of more rebel troops. At this juncture he found himself involved in the prospect of an engagement, and strengthened himself accordingly. In this way, as I am informed within the circle of the departments here, he was brought into that engagement, which has resulted in the defeat of his men, and in the breaking up of a well-laid plan for a decisive and a glorious victory to our arms. The result has been terribly aggravating to the commander of the army of the Potomac. He however, makes the best of it, and is now arranging his cards for a move in another direction, as confident of a triumphant success as he is that he is in command of the army.

By Telegraph from Salt Lake.

The Pacific Telegraph Line has been completed as far as Great Salt Lake City, and on Friday last the first messages through from that far-off station were received in the States. As a matter of record, aside from the interest which attaches to it, we print below the correspondence which occurred on the opening of the line.

The first message dispatched over the extended wire was a brief announcement of the completion of the line to Salt Lake, as follows:

FORT BRIDGER, Utah, Oct. 18.—The Pacific Telegraph Line was completed to Salt Lake at one o'clock to-day. The line between Salt Lake City and San Francisco will be finished in a few days.

Following this came a message from the Acting Governor of Utah to President Lincoln, which was immediately responded to by the President. Here are the messages:

GREAT SALT LAKE City, Oct. 18, 1861.

To the President of the United States:—Utah, whose citizens strenuously resist all imputations of disloyalty, congratulates the President upon the completion of an enterprise which spans the continent, unties two oceans, and connects remote extremities of the body politic with the great government's heart. May the whole system thrill with quickened pulsations of that heart, the parricidal band of treason be punished, and the entire sisterhood of States join hands in glad reunion around the national fireside.

FRANK FULLER,
Acting Governor of Utah.

The President replied:

Sir:—The completion of the telegraph to Salt Lake City is auspicious of the stability and Union of the Republic. The government reciprocates your congratulations.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The following dispatch from Brigham Young was also received at Cleveland on Friday evening:

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY,
Friday, Oct 18, 1861.

Hon. J. H. Wade, President Pacific Telegraph—Sir: Permit me to congratulate you on the completion of the Overland Telegraph Line west to this city; to commend the energy displayed by yourself and associates in the rapid and successful prosecution of a work so beneficial, and to express the wish that its use may ever tend to promote the true interests of the dwellers on both the Atlantic and Pacific slopes of our continent.

Utah has not seceded, but is firm for the Constitution and laws of our once happy country, and is warmly interested in successful enterprises as the one so far completed.

BRIGHAM YOUNG

The Philadelphia Bulletin, in remarking upon the first message above quoted, says: "These few words were spoken over wires at least seventeen hundred miles in length, for the distance between Philadelphia and Fort Bridger is not less than that. The line coming from San Francisco, to meet the line from the eastward, will be not less than a thousand miles long.—Thus we shall have, in a little while, a telegraph line across our continent, nearly three thousand miles long—probably the longest line in one direction in the world. We presume that the great scheme for connecting America with Europe by carrying wires across Bhering's Straits, is still in progress, and the completion of the telegraph to the Pacific furnishes a most important section of the work, and one that will at once become incalculably valuable to the people and the Government of the United States."

Brilliant Exploit of Fremont's Body Guard.

ST. LOUIS, Sunday, Oct. 27.

The following despatch was received here this evening:

HEADQUARTERS, IN THE FIELD,
Near Harmonsville, Mo., Oct 26.

Capt. McKeever, Asst-Adjt.-Gen:

Yesterday afternoon, Major SEAGONI, at the head of my guard, made a most brilfant charge upon a body of the enemy, drawn up in line of battle, at their camp at Springfield, 2,000 or 2,200 strong. He completely routed them, cleared them from the town, hoisted the National flag on the Court-house, and retired upon a reinforcement which he has already joined. Our loss is not great.

This successful charge against such a very large odds is a noble example to the army.—Our advance will occupy Springfield to-night.

(Signed) J. C. FREMONT.
Major General Commanding.

General Fremonts body-guard numbers 300. [Ever since the battle of Wilson's Creek, it will be recollected, Springfield has been in possession of the rebels, and they have thus been able more readily to keep communication open between Arkansas and Missouri, where, until recently PRICE has been operating. They have also had possession of Lebanon, some distance north-east of Springfield, and it is said they have collected there a large quantity of army stores, which will of course, now fall into the hands of General FREMONT.—Editor Times.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE VICTORY.

SPRINGFIELD, Saturday, Oct 26.

The following is a special dispatch to the St. Louis Republican:

"The following dispatch has been received, announciug a most brilliant victory at Springfield by Gen. FREMONT's Body Guard, numbering 150 men:

FIVE MILES OUT OF BOLIVAR, Oct. 25—10 A. M.—General: I report respectfully that yesterday at 4 P. M. I met in Springfield about 2,000 rebels formed in line of battle. They gave a very warm reception but your guard with one feeling made a charge and in less than three minutes the enemy was completely routed by 150 men.

We cleared the city of every rebel and retired it being near night, and not feeling able to keep the place with so small a force.

Major WHITE's command did not participate in the charge. I have seen charges, but such brilliant bravery I have never seen, and did not expect. Their war-cry, "Fremont and the Union," broke forth like thunder

(Signed) CHAS. SEAGONI,
Major Commanding Body-Guard.

Col. John M. Richardson, who rode over to the vicinity of Springfield last evening, says Major Seagoni was guided to the town, from the Jefferson to the Mount Vernon roads, by Judge Owens. The camp was just outside of the city.

Maj. Seagoni was compelled to pass through a lane and let down a number of fence rails before he could charge on the foe, thus drawing their fire.

There was a good deal of fighting in Springfield, and from the houses, two secessionists, who ran out of their dwellings and fired at the body guard, were killed.

Maj. Seagoni was advised of the force of the rebels, but he was determined to have a fight.

Col. Pearce, said to be from Arkansas, commanded one of the rebel regiments.

It is thought that the cause of that increased rebel force at Springfield was the large amount of plunder gathered there for some weeks past, which, it is stated, they intended to take South with them, but which will of course fall into our hands.

FROM FORT PICKENS.

The Attack on Col. Wilson's Zouaves.

The Enemy Repulsed with Great Loss!

Naval Battle at the Mouth of the Mississippi.

THE REBELS DRIVEN OFF!

Reliable Accounts of both Engagements, from Loyal Sources.

We have for some time past been regaled with rebel accounts of a fight between the rebels and Billy Wilson's New York Zouaves, at Santa Rosa Island, in which the Zouaves were badly used up, and the Confederates claimed a great victory. Also, with accounts of a naval engagement at the mouth of the Mississippi, in which a small Rebel fleet had played the deuce with the Federal blockading squadron, sinking one vessel and driving the others aground. We thought there was a smack of Munchausen about these accounts, and patiently waited for further details, which we now have, and which put a different face on the result of the engagements:

NEW YORK, Oct. 24, 1861.

The steamer McClellan, formerly the Joseph Whitney, has arrived from Key West. She brings advices from the South-West Pass to the 14th, from Fort Pickens to the 16th, Tortugas to the 18th, and Key West to the 19th inst.

On the morning of the 9th inst., about half-past three o'clock, the rebels attacked Colonel Wilson's position on Santa Rosa Island, in force. Company E of the Third Infantry, Capt. Hildt, and twenty-seven men of Company A, First Artillery—eighty-five men in all—under Major Vodges, met the enemy above Camp Brown.

Major Vodges was taken prisoner immediately, and Captain Hildt assumed the command and engaged the enemy. The loss in this struggle was four killed, twenty-one wounded and eight taken prisoners.

The enemy's loss is much larger. Eleven of the rebels were found dead in one heap. Maj. Arnold arrived after daylight to the assistance of Capt. Hildt.

The command proceeded to the point where the rebels had disembarked. Their steamers were just leaving, and a destructive fire was opened on them.

The rebels left behind them, on the island, twenty-two killed, five wounded and thirty-three prisoners. Many of their wounded were carried away on the boats.

Capt. Bradford and Lieut. Elms were killed. Three of their officers were captured. One of them is Lieut. Jaynes, formerly of the United States marines. He is badly wounded.

Gen. Anderson, who was in command of the rebels was wounded in the arm after disembarking.

The enemy acknowledged their loss to be over 100.

In addition to the loss on our side above stated, the Zouaves lost nine killed in their camp, and eleven taken prisoners.

[SECOND DISPATCH]

The details of the fight at Santa Rosa say that the rebel forces, 1,500 strong, landed on the Island from three steamers about four miles above Wilson's camp. Their landing was effected at about 2 o'clock in the morning The night was very dark. They rapidly formed in three columns and proceeded silently towards the Zouaves camp hoping to effect a total surprise.

They were but partially successful in this.—The picket guard, about six hundred yards off discovered and fired upon them and gave the alarm and saved the regiment from annihilation.

The attack by the enemy's forces was simultaneous and volley after volley was aimed upon the Zouaves who were forced to fall back, leaving the camp in the hands of the rebels

The rebels then commenced burning the camp.

Fort Pickens was by this time thoroughly aroused, and three companies of regulars came to their assistance. The rebels retreated to the boats, closely followed by regulars and a small number of volunteers, keeping up a destructive fire upon them killing and wounding a large number. The rebels finally reached the boats, but the steamers were over five hundred yards from the beach, and our men poured repeated volleys into the crowded mass. Every bullet told, and by the shouts and confusion of the rebels it was evident that we had obtained ample satisfaction for the insult to our flag.

The regulars behaved nobly. Great credit is due to captains Robertson and Hilt and Lieuts. Seely and Taylor. The Zouaves were badly mentioned, and Col. Wilson is very much censured for inefficiency. He did not reach the scene until all was over. The camp was almost entirely destroyed. The officers and men losing everything.

Major Newby had a narrow escape from capture, being confined to bed from dangerous illness. One of his servants was killed and the other taken prisoner. Major Newby shot a rebel with his revolver, and getting out of the house escaped through a storm of bullets.

Wilson's regiment lost 10 killed, 16 wounded and 9 taken prisoners. The regulars lost 4 killed, 20 wounded and 10 taken prisoners.

The rebels lost by their own statement 350 killed, wounded and missing.

We took thirty prisoners, including three doctors who were released.

The steamer McClellan also brings a reliable account of the fight at the mouth of the Mississippi.

The rebel fleet consisted of six gunboats, the Ram and Manassas and a large number of fire ships filling the river from shore to shore.

Our squadron was composed of the Richmond, Huntsville, Water Witch, Preble, Vincennes and the steamship Nightingale. They were at anchor inside of the south-west pass.

The Manassas drifted foul of the Richmond, knocking a hole in her quarter and stern, doing but little damage. To avoid the fire of the ships the squadron got under weigh immediately and drifted down the river.

The Richmond, Preble, Vincennes and Nightingale got ashore on the bar and while ashore they were attacked by the rebels, but only one of three shots took effect and that struck the Richmond in the quarter. They were beaten off by the Vincennes with only two guns. The rest of her armament, with her chains, anchors, etc., having been thrown overboard to lighten her, she being much exposed to rebel fire.

Not one person was killed or wounded in the squadron

The Richmond, Preble and Vincinnes were towed off the next day by steamer McClellan.

The Nightingale was still ashore but would probably get off the next day.

The steam frigate Niagara arrived at the mouth of the Mississippi on the 14th inst.

The sloop-of-war Dale was spoken on the 19th, coming in the Gulf Stream.

A LEAP OF SEVENTY FEET.—The Wheeling Intelligencer says that a soldier, attempting to escape from a squad that was endeavoring to arrest him leaped from the Suspension Bridge into the Ohio, a distance of seventy feet. He struck the water feet foremost, went down, but soon came to the surface, and struggled for life A boat put out and rescued him, after he had gone down the second time. Whisky caused his troubles.

The Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Lease.

The terms and conditions of a lease of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, have been passed upon and concurrently agreed to by the respective Boards of Directors of the two Companies; and, acording to these terms and conditions a contract is being prepared, jointly by the solicitors of the two Companies in negotiation, under the supervision of their respective Presidents; when framed and duly signed, the contract will be submitted to the stockholders interested in provisions for their final ratification.

The matter of the lease, therefore, has passed out of the deliberations of the two Boards of Directors, and has only to receive the formal approval of stockholders, to become invested with the force and effect of law.

The decisive step in the negotiation was taken by the Board of the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on Saturday last, when a proposition, understood to embody, substantially, the ultimatum of the other Company, by whom it was tendered, was agreed to by a large majority vote, in a shape which, on Monday last, was formally approved by the unanamous vote of the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company.

When signed by the Presidents of the two Companies, the specific terms and conditions of the lease will of course be made public for the information of stockholders; meantime it is said that the lease stipulates that:—the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are to guarantee the interest and principal of $5 000,000 of bonds secured by a first mortgage on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, of which bonds $3,800,000 are to be reserved by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for construction uses, under contracts hereafter to be made; that the remaining $1,200,000 of said bonds are to be appropriated to the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company, to be used in funding contractors scrip, by compromise, and in extinguishing all other unfunded indebtedness, which bonds, added to other available assets, are said to be ample for that purpose; that for equipments now the property of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are to pay in cash $150,000, that all contracts for work or material chargeable to construction or capital account, executed or allotted by the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company, are abrogated and annulled; and that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company are to equip and operate the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad for seventy per centum of the gross receipts, which leaves to the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company, for the use of their roadway thirty per cent. of the gross receipts, with which to pay interest, expenses of organization, and Dividends.

The terms agreed upon are the result of long, patient and frank negotiation, and are believed to combine the utmost that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company would give, and the utmost that the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad would offer or agree to, the first named Company having its own credit to protect, and the last named Company having to trust to that credit for means to complete their own unfinished road.—

From all Pennsylvania stand points this lease is a rosy omen and a gladdening fact. By it Philadelphia, the seaport of the State, will enjoy as friendly communication with Erie, the lakeport of the State, as with Pittsburg the Ohio riverport of the State. And thus between the seaboard, the Mississippi Valley, and the basin of the lakes all upon Pennsylvania soil, an iron trunk with two forking iron limbs, operated by a single organization, will compass grand results to the people of the State, and achieve important ends to the parties to the compact, which could not have been secured by competition: now creditors and stockholders of both Company's are insured against ruinous opposition, for under the lease, their interests are identical and their unity unquestionable.

Philadelphia will now indeed have an iron arm outstretched to Erie City, a portal of the lake basin, the fellow and counterpart of her iron arm to Pittsburg, the eastern gate of the Mississippi Valley.—U. S. Railroad and Mining Register.

CHARLESTON CONVENTION MEMBERS KILLED.—Major Gavitt, the Federal officer killed in the fight at Fredericktown, Mo., was a Douglas delegate from Indiana to the Charleston Convention, and also attended the adjourned session in Baltimore. Lieut. L. A. Nelms, of Georgia, a Confederate officer, reported as killed at the Santa Rosa fight, was a member of the Charleston Convention, and a most devoted Union man. When twenty-six of the Georgia delegates seceded from the Convention, he was one of the ten who refused to vacate their seats, but remained in the Convention till the close. On his return home, Nelms was accused by one of his seceding colleagues with being untrue to the South, on account of his remaining in the "squatter sovereignty convention."—A duel was the consequence, in which Nelms was badly wounded in the arm with a bullet. When the convention reassembled at Baltimore, Mr. Nelms, though still suffering from his wound, again appeared and remained till the close of the convention.

RIGHT KIND OF PATRIOTISM.—Dr. Clarkson T. Collins, a wealthy and celebrated physician of Great Barrington, Mass., declares his readiness and desire, in defence of the Federal Government, to be one of a thousand men, or one of three hundred, to arm and equip themselves,—each taking two horses and a servant—to enter the field, to give their lives if need be, or to continue in service till the close of the war, be it for one year or ten, and all at their own expense, not to cost the Government a cent. That kind of patriotism has the true grit.

OUR APOLOGY.

For some time past we have been promising our readers that if those who are indebted to us would come forward and settle up, we would, on or about the first of October, show them something never seen in this section of the country. Well, the first of October has gone by, and we have not announced our show as opened. Of course you want to know the cause, and, to begin with, we would say that the first and most important condition of the terms, upon which we promised to furnish the exhibition, has not been complied with, viz; but few have called to settle their bills, and thus supply us with the means to purchase it. Now it is not to be expected that we can get up a show worth looking at without money. We won't go "on tick," for it, and could not get it "on tick" if we would. Again, the gentleman who is engaged in getting up the exhibition has given us notice that he can not have it completed in less than sixty days from the 1st inst., which will be about the 1st of December. Delinquent friends, you have still time enough left to settle your accounts and get in to see the show on the first day that it is opened to spectators.—Come right along, and make no delay in settling up. The show is coming, and we must have the money to pay for it. Don't delay payment because the time is six weeks in advance. It will be up before ye are aware of it, and then you'll feel bad about not having paid us—at least you ought to.

The Sweet Little Man.

[Here is a very appropriate poem, respectfully dedicated to the "Stay-at-Home Rangers." The truthfulness of the picture presented will not be questioned, and the point will be easily arrived at. Let all the "sweet little men" read it:—]

Now while the soldiers are fighting our battles,
Each at his post to do all that he can,
Down among rebels and contraband chattels,
What are you doing my sweet little man?

All the brave boys under canvass are sleeping,
All of them pressing to march with the van,
Far from the home where their sweet-hearts are weeping,
What are you waiting for my sweet little man?

You with the terrible warlike moustaches,
Fit for a Colonel or chief of a clan,
You with the waist made for short belts and sashes,
Where are your shoulder-straps, sweet little man?

Bring him the buttonless garment of woman,
Cover his face, lest it freckle and tan;
Muster the Apron-String Guards on the common,
That is the corps for the sweet little man.

Give him for escort a file of young misses,
Each of them armed with a deadly rattan;
They shall defend him from laughter and hisses,
Aimed by low boys at the sweet little man.

All the fair maidens about him shall cluster,
Pluck the white feathers from bonnet and fan,
Make him a plume like a turkey-wing duster;
That is the crest for the sweet little man.

O, but the Apron-String Guards are the fellows!
Drilling each day since our troubles began!
"Handle your walking-sticks!" "Shoulder umbrellas!"
That is the style for the sweet little man!

Have we a nation to save? In the first place
Saving ourselves is the sensible plan,
Surely the place where there's shooting's the worst place,
Where I can stand, says the sweet little man!

Catch me confiding my person with strangers!
Think how the cowardly Bull Runners ran!
In the Brigade of Stay-at-home Rangers
Marches my corps, says the sweet little man!

Such was the stuff of the Malakoff takers,
Such were the soldiers that scaled the Redan;
Truculent housemaids and blood thirsty Quakers,
Brave not the wrath of the sweet little man.

Yield him the sidewalk, ye nursery maidens!
Sauve qui peut! Bridget, and right about Ann.
Fierce as a shark in a school of menhadens,
See him advancing, the sweet little man!

When the red flails of the battle field threshers
Beat out the Continent's wheat from its bran,
While the wind scatters the chaffy Secshers,
What will become of our sweet little man?

When the brown soldiers come back from the borders,
How will he look when his features they scan?
How will he feel when he gets marching orders,
Signed by his lady-love? Sweet little man!

Fear not for him, though the rebels expect him—
Life is too precious to shorten its span;
Woman her broomstick will raise to protect him;
Will she not fight for the sweet little man?

Now then three cheers for the Stay-at-home Ranger,
Blow the great Fish horn and beat the big pan!
First in the field that is farthest from danger
Take your white feather plume, sweet little man!

☞ The Blair County Whig, of last week, in speaking of Gen. Sherman's body guard says;—"It was originally intended for General Robert Anderson, and the suggestion, coupled with —a steam biscuit-bakery has been put in operation at Honolulu, Sandwich Islands."

Why the suggestion should be coupled with a steam biscuit bakery, at Honolulu on the Sandwich Islands, is more than we can understand. Will our friends of the Whig explain.

☞ We copy the following paragraph from a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Post, who is in Col. Black's regiment. We are informed by one who was present, that Capt. Crozier, and not Capt. Patterson, was in command of the pickets. It will be seen that the "Blair County Sharp-Shooters" are getting a touch of Picket life.

Two or Three days since, companies B and M, Captains Patterson and Crozier, were detailed from our regiment to go out on picket, about two miles from camp on the Lewinsville road, north of Falls Church. Capt. P. and Lieutenants McKee and Salisbury, with Capt. Crozier and Lieutenants Potts and Murray, with their men, responded promptly and reported themselves to Col. Skillan, of the New York Fourteenth, who was in command of a battallion of picketers from our Division. Capt. Patterson was placed in command of one hundred and fifty men, and during the three days the boys were out they had a good time. While out, one of his command captured seven cows, supposed to belong to a secessionist named Sherwood, and reported them to Captain Patterson. The Captain was disposed to consider them contraband and drive them into our camp, but when a woman presented herself and stated that her husband was absent from home, and that these cows were the main support of several children, the Captain caved in and permitted the woman to send after the stock. A great many other little incidents occurred while we were out, but as I have not time to note them and you have not room to publish them, will let them go.

CAMP CROSSMAN,
Oct. 15th, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We send you a card of thanks to the kind ladies of Tipton, and to Mrs. Lieut. Holliday in particular, for the magnificent present of comfortable clothing which they sent us. May eternal sunshine light up their pathways, and may misfortune's withering blast ne'er reach them.

JAS. CROWTHER,
In behalf of the Company.

MAN KILLED.—On Friday Evening week a man apparently an Irishman, whose name is unknown, was killed by the Fast Line West, about three miles above Mifflintown. He was sitting on the track, and was struck by the cowcatcher. The train was stopped and the man was picked up, still breathing but was unconcious. He was taken to Lewistown and medical attendance provided, died on Saturday at 11 o'clock. He was buried in the Poor House grave-yard. He was apparently about 40 years of age. Nothing was found about his person to indicate his name or residence.

A CURIOSITY.—Our old friend, Joe Metzgar, brought to our office, this (Friday) morning, a stalk of cabbage containing seventeen well shaped heads, and two or three in embryo.—The centre head is large and sound, and several of the outside ones are fit for use. It was raised on the farm of Andrew Hartman, in Sinking Valley. Can any one else produce such a lusus naturæ?

☞ A heavy press of job work, and the absence of one of the editors and our journeyman at Court, for two days, will account for the late appearance of our paper this week, and the want of attention to the different departments.

OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

We have received a long letter from our old friend, Jas. T. Moore, of this place, now in camp on Meridian Hill, near Washington City. He says their regiment (1st D. C. Vols.) has been under marching orders for ten days, but where they are to be sent none of them know. The days are quite warm for the season, but the nights are quite the reverse. They have plenty of good wholesome food, and warm woolen clothes, with the exception of bed-clothes.—There is but a single blanket to each man.—The boys from this part of the country, whose names will be found in the list below, are all in good health. They are well contented. The only dissatisfaction manifested arises from having to remain in their present camp and not being sent over the river along with the main body of the army. He speaks in terms of praise of all their officers as being kind and courteous in every respect. In speaking of the grand reviews which take place there every few days, he says they are pleasing to spectators put very fatigueing to the soldiers. He then adds a muster roll of the company, which we publish below. Any letters or packages forwarded to them should be directed in care of Capt. Rodier, 1st D. C. Vols., Washington City.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you.

THE EFFECTS OF CIVIL WAR.—The division of families caused by the war, particularly in some of the border States, is painfully illustrated in two instances. A Louisville correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes as follows:—Capt. Henry Clay, who has just received a commission as Assistant Adjutant under Brigadier General Richard W. Johnson, is a young man of fine abilities, a West Pointer, though not a graduate, and of undoubted and strong Union sentiments. His position is a very strange one, and is one among the many romantic stories of the day. His grandfather was the sage of Ashland, and his father died at Buena Vista. His uncle, James B. Clay, is a secessionist, now under bonds to appear for trial for treason. Another uncle, Thomas, in the U. S. service, is responsible for the appearance for trial of James B. Clay. A brother, Thomas Clay, jr., is on the rebel General Beauregard's staff.—His sister's husband, with whom young Clay resides in this city, has lately entered the U. S. service with two other brothers, for the war, and now comes young Harry's turn, and he accepts the unsolicited commission which General Johnson has tendered him. Here is another example:—John J. Crittenden has one son who is a Brigadier General in the rebel service. Another son is a Brigadier General in the army of the Union, but holding his commission from the State of Kentucky.—Another holds the rank of Captain in the Federal army. John J. Crittenden himself, at the age of 76, bears arms as a private in the Home Guard of Frankfort.

MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, perhaps, no department of military business in which there has been a more marked improvement than in the clothing of soldiers.—Not many years since, officers and privates were clad in garments which were almost skin-tight. They wore leather stocks, which were worthy of the name, for they kept the wearer in tribulation; while their padded breasts and tight sleeves made volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, such of our volunteers as procure their uniforms at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street above Sixth, Philadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm named have gone largely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest orders in the shortest possible time.

A Card to the Suffering.

The Rev. Wm. Cosgrove, while laboring as a missionary in Japan, was cured of Consumption, when all other means had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has cured great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these disorders.

Desirous of benefitting others, I will send this recipe, which I brought home with me, to all who need it, free of charge. Address

McCORMICK'S STORE,
IN THE OLD PLACE.

WE respectfully invite Purchasers to call and examine our stock of Fall and Winter Goods, as we think they will be found, upon examination, to compare favorably with any other assortment in the place, as well in quality as in price, although we are not prepared to say (as some of our Brother Chips have said) that some descriptions of goods have not advanced in price, for in doing so we would come in contact with the intelligence of the people, as every boy of six years old knows better—that we cannot sell domestic goods at old prices, unless we buy an inferior quality.

We have a full assortment of Goods, embracing all the usual varieties, such as FRESH COFFEES, TEAS, SUGARS, SYRUPS, SPICES, &C., to make up the full

FAMILY GROCERY.

Also, BOOTS, SHOES, HATS, CAPS, &c., &c., with a general assortment of

Ready-made Clothing,

FOR MEN AND BOYS, from a fine dress coat down to a monkey-jacket.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN,

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

4 Wall street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 18th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about 4 months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very respectfully,
BEN. A. LAVENDER.

To O J Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York.

My family are absent from the city, and I am no longer at No. 11 Carroll Place.

Siamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly, WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W H KENEDY.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ¾ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Bilious Affections,
LIVER COMPLAINT.
SICK HEADACHE, DYSPEPSIA, &C.
JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS,
A MILD, PROMPT & EFFECTIVE REMEDY.

THERE is scarcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not required; and much sickness and suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might be avoided by the timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medicines.

Convinced of the correctness of these views,

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS

Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other in use, being more mild, prompt, safe and uniform in their operation. While using them no particular care is required, and patients may eat and drink as usual. Age will not impair them, as to always readily dissolve in the stomach. In small doses they are alterative and gently laxative, but in large doses are actively cathartic, cleansing the whole alimentary canal from all putrid, irritating and fecal matters.

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable article, gradually changing the vitiated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedily effected by using, in conjunction with the Pills, either JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE or TONIC VERMIFUGE, according to directions.

For Liver Complaint, Gout, Jaundice, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fevers, Nervousness, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Sik Headache, Costiveness, Piles, Female Diseases, and Billious Affections, these Pills have proved themselves eminently successful. All that is asked for them is a fair trial.

As these Pills have proved themselves so eminently successful in removing diseases of the Liver, Dyspepsia and diseases of the Skin, I have thought it advisable to add the following remarks on

LIVER COMPLAINT.

This is a disease much talked about, but at the same time very imperfectly understood.

Properly speaking, every derangement of the Liver or Billious system is a Liver Complaint, but the peculiar state of the Liver to which I now have reference is a Chronic Affection, and usually arises from a torpid or congestive state of that important organ. Sometimes the bile is deficient in quantity, or vitiated in quality, or both these states prevail at the same time. Sometimes the disease is owing to obstruction in the duct or pipe which conveys the bile from the liver into the bowels. This obstruction is very frequent, and is usually caused by the pipe being clogged up by thick tenacious slime or mucous, and sometimes by gall stones. The bile is then thrown back into the gall-bladder, where it is absorbed by numerous small vessels which convey it into the Thoracic Duct, a pipe that runs up along the spine, and terminates in and empties itself into the large vein of the left shoulder, near its junction with the veins of the head and neck, and thence the bile is conveyed to the heart and becomes mixed with the blood. The bile in this manner being diverted from its proper course, and circulating in a part of the body where it never was designed by nature, produces much evil, and often disastrous effects upon the health of the individual—because, for want of healthy bile to mix with the half-digested food, a complete separation never takes place between the chyle (the milky liquor which forms the blood) and those portions of the food designed by nature to be ejected from the bowels—for the bile, when present, purifies and separates the healthy from the unhealthy portions, in the same manner that isinglass or white of eggs separate wine or cider from their impurities—and, consequently, the very fountain of life is vitiated and corrupted. Costiveness prevails—or alternately costiveness or diarrhœa—wind in the stomach and bowels, and the patient is often annoyed with worms, and frequently with the piles. The coarse particles of the bile thrown mixed with the blood, more or less obstruct the pores of the skin and small blood-vessels, and hence give rise to various diseases of the skin, such as erysipelas, eczema, itchings, small watery vessels, blotches tumors, pimples, scurfiness, boils, sore eyes, sores and ulcers of various kinds. The skin is more or less yellow, and (when the disease is of long standing,) often very dark, and has a disagreeable, dirty, greasy appearance, and sometimes there is a perfect jaundice. The white of the eyes also has a green or yellow tinge.

MORE OR LESS bile is strained from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and, by its acrimony, produces pains in the back, and scalds and irritates all the urinary passages. Some days the passage of urine is profuse and natural in appearance; at other times it is scanty, and the desire to evacuate is frequent and urgent. Sometimes the color is nearly white and milky, but usually it is high colored, red or yellow, with a rank, offensive odor, and sometimes it is bloody.

The tongue is usually more or less coated with a brown scurf. There is irritation, and frequently chronic inflammation of the inner surface of the stomach and bowels, with a tenderness on pressure, and a soreness along

WASHING MACHINE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING purchased the right for Blair county, of

Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine,

are now manufacturing them at Altoona, and intend to supply them to those persons throughout the county who desire a LABOR-SAVING MACHINE.

This machine is got up on an entirely new principle, and is considered, by those who have seen it in use, the best that has ever been brought before the public.

Among the many advantages of this machine over all others may be mentioned the following:

1st. Its simplicity of construction, making it almost impossible to get out of order.

2d. Its speed, which astonishes alike the operator and the looker-on.

3rd. The facility with which it adapts itself to the bulk or quantity of clothes desired to be washed.

4th. It washes equally well the finest and lightest fabric or the coarsest and heaviest, such as bed-quilts, comforts, blanket, &c.

McMINN & DERN,

We the undersigned, hereby certify that we are now using Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine and are fully satisfied that it is a very excellent article of the kind; combining as it does great speed with little labor, and performing its work in the most satisfactory manner.
